Why is ski day important?

- There are many life lessons that school aged children learn while skiing and snowboarding: Patience/Persistence/ Respect/ Integrity/Confidence/Courage/Pride.
- Kids want to learn to ski and snowboard because they are fun activities, but it takes a lot of hard work to accomplish them. Doing so, children build self-esteem and self-confidence.
- Being outdoors in the sun improves children's health & happiness.
- Skiing & Snowboarding are great physical activities and can be life-long sports.
- By having a ski day, students have something to look forward to and strive for during the school year.
- School day ski trips have a big impact on a child. Every student takes a special memory home with them, that they will cherish for a lifetime and pass on to the next generation.
